Findings
	Findings 1. The University QEC Directorate is doing an excellent job as set standards and according to GEP-2023 and PSG 2023. Students/supervisors files are well maintained by majority of departments but space for improvement of several departments exist. GRC and ASRB meetings are held regularly and according to statutes. 2. Course codes in majority of Departments and programs are not as per Graduate Education Policy (GEP-2023) and National Qualification Framework (NQF) of HEC. Two common courses for all MS/MPhil and PhD graduates are offered with 600 and 500 series codes (which relates to UG level-6 and 5) instead of 700 and 800 series (of level-7 and level-8). It was also observed that in few departments students who have passed these common courses in MS level (level-7) are again offered the same courses in the PhD (level-8). Moreover, PG students of Islamic Studies and Urdu are also being taught these	To be noted and actions be taken by the HU within its own priorities and corrective measures for improvement	Noted	- common courses which they consider to be not supportive. 3. The admission test is mandatory requirement to be passed prior admission. Many departments did not provided its conduct dates which is taken as either the test is not passed or otherwise the record keeper is faulty. 4. All dossiers are signed and authenticated by Deans/Director A&R and Registrar, however the record reveals they did not ensured the information within the dossiers and evaluation y Directorate QE leaded to unveiling the discrepancies. While mostly instead signing in person the dossiers are endorsed with stamped signatures which is against the official documentation. 5. The dossiers are authenticated with STAMP-SIGNATURES, while in term of efficiency-auditing, original signatures are always required and accepted. 6. Frequent Electricity breakdown affect faculty and students research badly. 7. Insufficient and underqualified Lab staff. 8. In several programs it was found that supervisors are not allotted to PhD students at the time of admission. 9. According to the Graduate Policy and the Graduate Regulations, a proposal shall be submitted by the PhD candidates. No such record found/available with any of the departments, within the Supervisors files and with the Directorate Research. 10. Lack of awareness and understanding among Faculty members and students regarding HEC guidelines and policies related to Postgraduate programs, especially GEP 2023 and NQF is observed. Even several heads of departments were unaware of the rules/regulations.

	11. Many students in various departments are either already time barred or on the verge of being time barred. The reasons for permission and recommendation f hardship committee in this record do not match the regulations. 12. It was found that synopsis approval process is undesirably delayed in many cases. 13. Deficiency of PhD faculty members in some departments found i.e., Pakistan Studies (0) and Law (01), Economics (02) and Bioinformatics (02). 14. In most Labs Work Instructions are not displayed for any equipment and the lab etiquette are not complied. 15. Deficiency of Labs in the departments of Zoology, research lab in Computer Science, and consumables in the Biochemistry Labs. 16. Access to research literature was found to be limited. 17. Lack of awareness among students on utilizing Library Resources. During the visit to the library, it was found to be lacking proper spaces for Research Students, while the cabins created for research students are being used as offices. Furthermore, proper cataloging of books as per international standards is required. Hardcopies of the thesis were found stored in front of the cabins on the second floor instead its proper archiving.
Recommendations:
1.	It may be considered that, prior to initiating admissions, departments share the available slots with the Director A&R and obtain vetting from the Directorate of QA before advertisement. Alternatively, formulation of a Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) could be explored to ensure a uniform process and alignment with the HEC-prescribed student–teacher ratio.	Each semester, at least a month before advertising the admission	In HU admission Committee has this mandate for which approved Graduate-Regulations-2023 exists.
